Make Fixed Conference Rooms Flexible

With technology you can transform spaces easily and make hybrid working and video conferencing relevant. Meetings can be productive and seamless for all users, in-room or remote participants, in any space or setup.

TODAY, MEETING SPACES NEED TO ACCOMMODATE:

- different types of room setups including room systems or BYOM solutions
- different scenarios like hybrid, in-person or ad hoc meetings
- different users, like guests or remote users
- different technologies
- different AV peripherals and displays.

That's why, at ClickShare, we enable the ultimate flexibility in every type of room, even in fixed UC rooms. Gone are the days of rigid set-ups, unpractical conference room systems and limited functionality. Say goodbye to messy cables and hello to effortless collaboration. Because it's high time to love meeting again.

Create Meaningful Experiences with ClickShare

Working and collaborating in any office environment today should be meaningful, as workers go to office for very specific reasons. Recent Gartner research shows that workers prefer to return to the office for in-person meetings and relevant milestones, as well as for face-to-face time with co-workers. Whatever the reason for the commute may be, workers want a meaningful workplace that helps them meet and work in the most optimal way.
